

Holidays on Ice: Stories

Holidays on Ice is a collection of three previously published stories matched with three newer ones - all, of course, on a Christmas theme. David Sedaris' darkly playful humor is another common thread through the book, worming its way through Seasons Greetings to Our Friends and Family!!! a chipper suburban Christmas letter that spirals dizzily out of control, and Front Row Center with Thaddeus Bristol, a vicious theatrical review of childrens Christmas pageants. As always, Sedaris' best work is his sharply observed nonfiction, notably in Dinah, the Christmas Whore, the tale of a memorable Christmas during which the young Sedaris learns to see his family in a new light. Worth the price of the book alone is the hilarious SantaLand Diaries, Sedaris' chronicle of his time working as an elf at Macys, covering everything from the preliminary group lectures (You are not a dancer. If you were a real dancer you wouldnt be here. You're an elf and you're going to wear panties like an elf.) to the perils of inter-elf flirtation. Along the way, he paints a funny and sad portrait of the way the countless parents who pass through SantaLand are too busy creating an Experience to really pay attention to their children. In a sly way, it carries a holiday message all its own. Read it aloud to the adults after the kids have gone to bed.
