

Red Hawks Woman (The Lost Clan Book 3)

Their passion is thunder and lightning. Their fate could be a flood of sorrow. The Lost Clan, Book 3. Red Hawks most precious childhood memory is of a single morning with a girl whose beauty seemed lit from within with magic. Now, years later, she could very well hold the key to a centuries-old curse but when his visions lead him to her again, no recognition lights her eyes. At age twenty-five, Effie Rutledge has missed her chance for marriage, but the daughter of a renowned archaeologist would rather get her hands dirty on a dig than cleaning up after some man. She is determined to finish her father's quest to recover four precious artifacts that could free a lost clan from a half life in the mists, but with her expedition reported as jinxed, there are no guides to be had. Except one tall, enigmatic native who draws her as naturally as water flows to the sea. Even when memories reconnect, they struggle to trust each other. Worse, their once-in-a-lifetime passion risks the Thunder gods' wrath and the future of the entire Lost Clan. This book has been previously published. Warning: Within the pages of this book is an all-consuming passion, so deep, so sensuous, it might cause you to want to spend the night in a loved one's arms.
